Your Homework:

Create ONE product using the Demand-First process.

You did the research tonight.

Now go MAKE something.

This will help you come to Day 3 ready to share

- What search term you targeted
- Who your buyer is
- What you created

I'll be asking tomorrow. Be ready.

 Type "I'LL DO IT" if you're committed.

Instructions:

Create ONE product using the Demand-First process.

Not two. Not five. Just ONE.

You already did MINE and MATCH tonight.
Now go MAKE it.

Come to Day 3 ready to share:

TOMORROW: DAY 3

The Full Picture

---

LET ME BE REALLY HONEST WITH YOU.

If there's ONE day I need you live for...

☞It's Day 3.☞

Day 1 gave you clarity.

Day 2 gave you a product + process.

Day 3 is where we plug it ALL into a system you can actually sustain.

Without Day 3, you have pieces.

WITH Day 3, you have a machine.

Who Day 3 Is Especially Important For:

- ✓ You have lots of ideas, but struggle to be consistent
- ✓ You start strong... then life happens and Etsy disappears for weeks
- ✓ You're tired of "all or nothing" sprints with your shop
- ✓ You want to know exactly what to do in 3 hours a week
- ✓ You're already thinking: "Okay, but how do I keep this going after the challenge?"

If any of those are you...

Day 3 is non-negotiable.

What You'll Walk Away With After Day 3:

✓ A simple 3-hour weekly checklist
(what to do on which days so you're not guessing)

✓ A way to decide what to work on next
without getting stuck in overthinking or perfectionism

✓ A clear picture of your next 90 days
Whether you choose to do it completely on your own
Or you decide you want more help

You will not leave Day 3 thinking, "Okay... but what do I actually do now?"

What Happens If You Skip Day 3:

You'll have clarity (from Day 1).
You'll have a product direction (from tonight).

But you won't have the system.

And without the system, motivation fades, life gets busy, and Etsy becomes "that thing I tried once."

PLUS... TOMORROW I'M REVEALING SOMETHING.

Something I've been building for months.
Something that solves the #1 problem I hear.
Something that doesn't exist anywhere else.

i don't usually say this, but... i genuinely think this will change the etsy game in 2026.

You get to see it all tomorrow — as a challenge attendee.

Don't miss it. December 11th • 7 PM ET • Same place
